GDPR Letter

The General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), in force from 25th May 2018, replaces the Data Protection Act 1998. GDPR has adopted the same principals as the previous data protection laws, however GDPR has strengthened the elements of accountability and enforcement. As a result, we at AM Boarding Kennels have completed a full information audit and have a comprehensive GDPR compliance programme in place across our entire operations to deal with how personal data is held and processed.

Please be advised that data held upon you and your organisation is; obtained, retained and processed under strict privacy rules and is used for normal business purposes only. We will assume your consent to the obtaining, retaining and processing of such data as part of our continuing relationship.

We have included a copy of our Privacy Notice, which outlines our responsibilities under the new legislation, and highlights the purposes for which AM Boarding Kennels may be required to utilise your personal information. As expressed above all of which are for legitimate business purposes and to enable us to provide our services to you, our customer.

If you have any concerns regarding the data which is held on you, or for insight into our data usage and privacy policy, please visit our website at the URL below for further details:
